SENATE URGED TO DISPOSE OF SHOALS

Southern Solons Seek to Jam Through Bill on Nitrate Fields

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Secretary of War Weeks and Senator Underwood of Alabama moved toward an agreement in a two hour conference this morning on the latter's plan for disposition of the government's great nitrate and power project at Muscle Shoals, Ala.

Although Weeks holds that the Underwood plan—providing for government operation if the plants are not sold prior to July, 1925—is unworkable without certain amendments, Underwood indicated following the conference that he would accept the changes suggested by the administration.

By KENNETH CLARK
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The final drive to jam through the Underwood bill for disposing of Muscle Shoals, supported heavily by southern senators, was launched in the Senate today. Leaders of all factions plan to speed up debate and hope was high in the Senate that a vote will be reached by Wednesday. The report of Army engineers on the Underwood measure is in the hands of Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska, chairman of the agriculture committee.

War department experts agree in general with the proposal in the bill authorizing the government, through the secretary of war, to attempt a lease of the vast nitrate and power properties to private interests. This is in line with the suggestion of President Coolidge, as laid down in his annual message.

Weeks Opposes

At the same time the engineers, it was understood, have suggested certain changes in that portion of the bill which would compel the government to set up a corporation to operate Muscle Shoals should a lease not be obtained.

If it develops that sentiment is strong for the Underwood measure and opposed to his plan for straight out government ownership, Norris said today he probably would bring in some important amendments to the Underwood plan to make it more nearly conform with his bill. He did not state the nature of the alterations he would propose.

Secretary of War Weeks, in transmitting the report of the army engineers to the Senate, raised serious objections to some portions of the Underwood bill, characterizing them as "unworkable." This referred specifically, it was said, to the plan to have the government setting up and operating a nitrate project at the shoals after July 1, if the plant is not disposed of before that time.

In 1923 I sent a special message to the legislature urging reapportionment, and as there was abundant time to pass a measure I stated that if the legislature failed to observe the constitution I would not call a special session for that purpose. The legislature failed to pass a reapportionment bill.

JAPS AROUSED OVER NAVY'S MANEUVER

U. S. Battle Fleet Move Near Hawaii Brings Oriental Warning

By LUTHER A. HUSTON
For International News Service.

TOKIO, Dec. 8.—The proposed 1925 American battle fleet maneuvers in the vicinity of the Hawaiian islands are arousing the keenest public sentiment against the United States throughout the Japanese empire, with several of the more unrestrained newspapers and patriotic organizations actively stirring the Tokio government to protest to Washington against the forthcoming naval demonstration. Several public meetings already have been held, attended by Japanese notables, at which the United States has been accused of desiring to make the Pacific ocean "an American lake."

The newspaper Jiji, commenting on President Coolidge's message to Congress, said:

"The proposed Pacific maneuvers of the American fleet will constitute the greatest menace to the world's rest."

The Jiji adds that somebody should call Coolidge's attention to the gravity of stirring up international uneasiness at this time.

No Official Comment

In spite of the alarmist faction of the Japanese press, the more responsible and conservative journals do not regard the purposes of the United States as imperialistic, though they do seriously question the wisdom of the proposed Hawaiian maneuvers.

Neither the Japanese foreign office nor the navy department will comment officially on the American-Pacific maneuvers. Inflammatory speeches on the subject unofficially made by Japanese naval officers have been suppressed, the navy department disclaiming all responsibility for these utterances. Likewise, statements attributed to Admiral Okada to the effect that Japan was unconcerned at the Hawaiian naval demonstrations, have elicited word from the navy department that these statements were also unauthorized, Okada having had no permission to speak for the government.

MARKET TENDS TO REACTION IN SALES

Traders More Anxious to Unload Than to Buy; Motors Leading

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Reactionary tendencies predominated in the stock market today. Traders appeared to be more anxious to sell than buy stocks, taking advantage of the opportunity presented to convert accumulated profits into cash. The volume of business showed a considerable reduction from the full session last week, and the evident slowing up of the market on reaction was hailed as an evidence of the stability of its present price structure. Professional traders were heavily arrayed on the short side of the market in many of the high priced industrials but their combined efforts failed to develop any seriously weak spots.

The brisk rise in sterling exchange to a new high for the year was the subject of favorable comment in the financial district, but little attention was paid, either in the stock market or the bond market to the constructive effects that are supposed to follow the German elections.

Motors, Rails Lead

Equipment, motor and some of the railroad stocks were the leaders in a moderate upward movement in the first hour, but meanwhile other stocks were being poured on the market in fairly heavy volume. Thus while forward movements were going on in some sections, declines of a point or more were taking place in the majority of active shares, particularly in those which have made the sharpest adva in the last few sessions. The rise of call money rates to 3½ per cent in the fourth hour helped to accelerate the decline.

Special interest was manifested today in a number of the high-priced dividend investment stocks which have taken little part in the movement of prices thus far. Any readjustment in permanent income rating in view of the prevailing low rates for money would result in a high price for such stocks. American Telephone & Telegraph, a nine per cent stock which has apparently been "pegged" around 129 for a few months, moved up to 132¼;

SCIENCE CHURCH HEARS OF ISRAEL

Rev. Mabel Moore, Of Occult Science of Christ, In Sunday Sermon

Taking "The Children of Israel's Message to Us" as her subject, and the thirty-second chapter of Exodus as her text, Rev. Mabel Moore, pastor of the Occult Science of Christ church, 113 South Orange street, delivered an original and helpful sermon last night. Rev. Mrs. Moore said:

"Let us remember that a great portion of the children of Isreal who left Egypt for the Promised Land never reached it. They failed to reach it, we believe, because of their almost constant complaining, and lack of faith. Their leaders were afraid to take possession of the land of their desire because of the giants that they believed to inhabit it. They were willing again to become slaves if only they could return to Egypt and eat the food and live the life to which they had so long been accustomed.

"We of today in many ways resemble the children of Israel, in that many of us are constantly keeping ourselves from the blessings of our promised land of desire by complaining, by lacking in faith, and by dwelling too much in the past. We seem to forget that every one who decides to go forward into a new and more fruitful field and accomplish new things must expect to find new experiences in his path. New experiences and new problems mean development and growth.

Mastering Conditions

"When we are able to master a new condition we are, by that very fact, then able successfully to meet and master still another experience. If we would progress toward our promised land of spirituality, we must not sit still and eat from the fleshpots of Egypt, as did the children of Israel. We must go on into new attitudes of mind and a new and more constructive life and thought. Some of the thoughts and experiences that in this way will become ours may be lacking in interest, and some may even frighten us, but, taking a lesson from the great mistake of the children of Israel, we must go steadily forward in the confidence and certainty that God, the divine life that dwells within each of us, is guiding and caring for us in all our efforts to further His work.

"Thus we see that in their great and outstanding mistake, the children of Israel have shown us a very real and vivid example of what we should not do if we wish to avail ourselves of the new and better conditions that are now dawning upon a world that greatly needs them. In this way, have they left to each of us a very important and timely message. Those that have ears to hear, let them hear."

CALLS CONSCIENCE 'OUR SIXTH SENSE'

Enables Persons to Decide Right and Wrong, Says Dr. J. F. Winnard

At the Tropico Presbyterian church last night, Dr. James F. Winnard, pastor, spoke from the text "That ye may put a difference between holy and unholy," Lev. 10:10. He said:

"Ordinarily we speak of the five senses as though they comprised all the faculties by which we gain knowledge of things. Hearing enables us to judge the quality of tone whether of music or language. So also feeling, seeing, smelling, tasting, serve us each its own way But the sixth sense is that of conscience. By it we are enabled to determine right from wrong, holy from unholy and to put a difference between them.

"Men get to be experts through their natural faculties. And wherein any of these may be lacking it is possible to restore their usefulness by artificial measures, such as glasses for weak eyes. But conscience is more apt to be seared as with a hot iron rather than to be made super-sensitive to the moral quality of things. But a close study of the Bible, communion with God in prayer and a 'closer walk with Him' will keep the conscience in a high state of usefulness. And we should always strive to keep the conscience responsive. For as we depend largely upon the other five senses for a living we are almost dependent upon conscience for life."

LOVE DIMENSIONS TAKEN AS SERMON

Central Avenue Methodist Preacher Tells Of Four Kinds

Rev. Leo C. Kline, pastor of the Central Avenue Methodist church took as his theme "The Four Dimensions of Love" for the sermon yesterday morning. The text was Ephesians 3. 18-19, "That Ye may be able to comprehend with all saints, what is the breadth and length and depth and heighth and to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge that ye might be filled with all the fulness of God." He said:

"Here is a prayer, a problem and a promise. The prayer is uttered by the Apostle Paul as introduced in the 14th verse of the chapter, 'I bow my knees unto the Father.' It was in behalf of the Christians in Ephesus. The problem is, how can one know the unknowable and how can one measure the immeasurable? The promise is included in the prayer 'To be filled with all the fulness of God.'

Four Dimensions

"The four dimensions of love here mentioned are breadth, length, depth and height. The breadth of Christ's love is its universality, all encompassing, extended to every nation and every tongue. To all classes, illiterate or learned, savage, heathen or cultured and refined, poor or wealthy, those low in the social scale, or in prominent positions, all are included in His offer of love.

"The length is its external duration. From beginning to end of the days of man it is manifested. The love of men may grow cold, the friends depart, but Jesus is the same, yesterday, today and forever. The depth is the extent to which it penetrates to reach the heart of man. No sinner is so low or so far gone from the path of righteousness, but that love may somehow reach him. The height is the exalted position to which love will raise mankind. To be sons of God and joint heirs with Jesus Christ to all His eternal glory."

REV. CALDERWOOD TALKS ON GIVING

Congregational Pastor In Sermon On Money And Church

"Giving and the Church" was the theme of the sermon delivered yesterday morning at the Congregational church by Rev. C. M. Calderwood, pastor. Rev. Calderwood said:

"Money is life. It is somebody's life. If a man has made it by his own production, it is his own life. If it has come to him by inheritance, it is the life of some one else. Therefore the consecration of a man's life means the consecration of his money. We have no Christian right to use our lives for anything but the best, and, therefore, we have no Christian right to use our money for anything but the best.

"How is life to be used? 'Whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God.' Life is to be spent and invested, not saved. 'He that saveth his life shall lose it, and he that loseth his life shall find it.' The same standards that apply to the use of one's life, which is his time, his strength and his ability, apply to the use of his money.

"Thinking people are agreed that no person had the right to do with his life just what he wants. We are agreed that we are bought with a price and that we are not our own. No more can it be said that a man's money is his own to do with as he likes. The stewardship of money is no less sacred than the stewardship of life.

Few Cents a Day

"It is evident when we search fearlessly the teachings of Jesus that a man's relationship to his possessions was a matter that needed his attention. Jesus had more to say about this than he said about prayer, important as he considered that to be.

"Men pray 'Thy kingdom come' and give a few cents a day towary the expenses of establishing that kingdom, while, in the meantime they think nothing of spending dollars on pleasure or selfish gratification. Where is the Christion the weakest? In his praying, or in the use of his money?

"When Christians really give their lives to Christ and learn that the things they possess are not their own and then give back to the Lord a definite proportion, the kingdom of God will soon come. The kingdom of God will come when the millions of church people really want it to come to the extent of paying for the pearl of great price."

'UNDER FULL SAIL' GRAND VIEW TALK

Rev. Thomas Tells Hearers Most Dramatic Moment In Church History

"Under Full Sail Before the Holy Spirit" was the theme of the missionary sermon delivered at the Grand View Community church yesterday morning. "The most dramatic and tremendous moment in the history of the church so far as human agency is concerned was the moment when Paul and Silas set sail from Selucia, the first foreign missionaries of the Christian church," said Rev. George W. Thomas, pastor of the church. He continued:

"In wider and wider circles they had proclaimed the love of God in obedience to the command of Jesus. But up until now they have gone on foot and only where the stream of Jewish life swallowed up the stream of Gentile life.

"So it was until the church had sent Barnabas 'as far as Antioch,' and there he halted at the corner of the world. There he beheld the streams of life, Jewish and Gentile, mingling in a mighty sea that called and challenged with myriad voices of the deep.

Barnabas' Mission

"Barnabas knew he must put out in the deep, must sail, but he also knew that he must have a ship captain tall enough to look into the eyes of the Pilot of Galilee, and broad enough to hold a heart to love all the folk of sea and land into one kindred and one faith. 'Then departed Barnabas unto Tarsus for to seek Saul.'

"And now together these two intrepid seamen of the Gospel are setting sail, sent forth by the Holy Spirit, wafted by the winds of God, going down to the sea in ships to proclaim the works of the Lord. Their compass was the Great Commission, their helmsman the sure purpose of the Master of wind and wave to save the storm beat hearts that called across the sea.

"Thank God for the fearless hearts, the wide faring hearts who dared to put the Gospel to its utmost test and prove that Jesus Christ could save unto the ends of the earth and the uttermost son of man on every sea.

"We owe Europe and America with all they mean to the world: we owe our geography, our languages, our racial understandings and best relationships, our deepest lessons in the power of God and the sacrifice of man, and the very life of the church. Let the church today be under full sail before the Holy Spirit, and tomorrow the great welcoming chorus of every tongue and people and nation shall rise in the oratorio of redemption in the mighty city beyond the crystal sea."

JOY IN WORSHIP IS SERMON TOPIC

Church Calendar Is Called Systematic Arranging Of Great Events

Speaking on the theme "Joy in Worship," Dr. H. C. Funk, pastor of the First Lutheran church said: "The church year is a calendar of worship. It is a systematic plan setting forth the great events in the life of Christ, together with the cardinal doctrines of the Word. Thus we observe the Advent season, the Epiphany, Holy Week, culminating in the glorious Resurrection of our Lord. Then follow Pentecost and the Trinity season. The church has a rich and precious treasure in the church calendar, for it presents in its completeness, and in logical order, the whole work, life and teaching of the Saviour.

"No great fact or truth pertaining to our redemption is slighted or overlooked. The question is simply this, shall the services and sermons be directed by the church or by the whim of the preacher? It is evident that the preacher is inclined to emphasize favorite subjects of his own and would likely neglect things that are really fundamental to a proper development of Christian faith and life. The attributes of the Almighty are wonderful.

"In the beginning of the Epistle for the day He is called the God of patience and consolation. And in concluding we read 'Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing.' Young people often stay away from Christ and church because they say 'we want to have a good time.' But what is the truth? This, that there is no joy on earth that compares with the joy of salvation. No one else has as much reason to be happy as the Christian. The gospel means, good news, that certainly should make one happy."

Fire Damage Small at Palace Grand Shops

Fire in the meter room at Jensen's Palace Grand shops, 133 North Brand boulevard, at 2:10 o'clock Saturday afternoon, was extinguished by apparatus from Station No. 1 of the Glendale fire department, in charge of Captain Ralph Dodsworth, at a loss estimated not to exceed $10.

A false alarm brought apparatus from Station No. 1 to the Broadway High school at 4:50 o'clock Saturday afternoon. A passerby had seen a flame dancing in the basement of the east wing and had turned in an alarm. The flame was an acetylene torch being operated by workmen, Captain Dodsworth found.

STATE REALTY CONFERENCE ON SURVEY

Eighteen Glendale Members Hear Anaheim Delegates Boost Industries

Eighteen members of the Glendale realty board attended the first industrial conference of the California Real Estate association, held all day Saturday at Anaheim. Realtors from all parts of California were present, over 200 attending the morning and afternoon sessions, held at the Elks' hall, W. H. Daum, chairman of the industrial division of the association, presiding.

The conference succeeded in holding the attention of all delegates on the necessity for industrial surveys of cities that hope to bid for branches of large eastern and middle western manufacturing plants. The Glendale delegation was particularly gratified to hear this matter stressed, the local realty board just having appropriated $205 toward an industrial survey of Glendale, in which members will have the co-operation and support of the chamber of commerce.

Fred E. Reed of Oakland, past president of the California Real Estate association and for years noted as one of the best speakers on the west coast, outlined to the conference the history of world commerce, showing that the course of trade is westward. He pictured Venice as the one-time queen of the world's cities, showing how the opening of the Suez and later the Panama canal have served to direct the commerce of the nations to the shores of California, "where the greatest city in history will rise," he predicted.

Industrial Surveys

W. H. Daum went into the matter of industrial surveys, asking the question, "Is a subsidy necessary?" and answering it with the

Soloist

MONNIE HAYS HASTINGS, soprano, who will appear with the Glendale Music club in "The Messiah," to be presented December 16.

The Glendale Music club will present "The Messiah," Handel's masterpiece, December 16, at the Broadway High school, with a chorus of 200 selected voices, four star soloists and the Philharmonic orchestra, directed by John Smallman, nationally known in oratorio work.

For four months the Glendale Music club has been rehearsing for the event and on Sunday, December 14, the dress rehearsal with the Philharmonic orchestra will take place.

The four artists who will appear with the Glendale Music club are Monnie Hays Hastings, soprano, Clemence Gifford Johnson, contralto, A. J. Kisselburgh, baritone, and Harold Proctor, tenor.

Monnie Hays Hastings is well known in music circles, having been a featured soloist for two years with the Los Angeles Oratorio society, and active in chamber music work and concert work. She is soloist at First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Los Angeles, and a member of the choir of B'nai B'rith. Her appearance as soprano soloist in "Elijah" last spring with the same chorus will be remembered by all music lovers who attended that artistic event.

SOUTH BRANCH LIBRARY IS DISCUSSED

New Fire Station Included In Plans Forming for Tropico Section

General plans for a new south branch library and a new fire station for South Glendale are in the making, although no definite steps will be taken until such time as the city disposes of the old Tropico city hall site, Los Feliz road and Brand boulevard, which now serves as a library, fire station and city health department.

According to T. W. Preston, chairman of the library board, that body will endeavor to have the city set aside part of the amount realized when the present building and site are sold for a new branch library. The intention is to erect the new library building somewhere removed from the main boulevards to avoid the noise of the traffic, he said. No definite location has been selected.

The present location of the South Glendale fire station is not considered desirable, it was said, because of the great amount of traffic. With the enlargement of the Glendale city hall on Broadway, it is likely that the health department will be moved from the Los Feliz building and the property sold, new quarters being provided for the fire station and the branch library.

Funds Discussed

Funds originally alloted to the Glendale south branch library have not been used in completing the new north branch quarters across from the Grandview school. All the money allowed in this year's budget for the south branch has been spent there, according to C. H. Cushing, librarian.

"Because money has not been available until within the last ten days for new books, it was reported that south branch funds were being used to complete the new north branch building. This is not so. We have been given our full quota of the funds for the year, although our great growth has made this amount insufficient," Mr. Cushing said.

Jenkins, was elected to membership in the fraternity last year, and the parents were elated to hear that the honor has now been extended to both of their boys. George and Vernon are seniors at the agricultural school.

FORD TO BUILD MOSQUITOES

The sky will be darkened with air flivvers the coming year, we are told. Henry Ford, not content with cluttering up the earth, is going to obstruct our view of the heavens and shut off the sunlight. Plans are being made in Detroit to place airplanes on the market for from $500 to $1500, also to sell airplane motors so that the handy man can make his own aircraft. Mr. Ford thinks there is little doubt that air flivvers can be made and sold almost as cheaply as the world-famous terrestrial species.

Small planes can be built, he says, which will carry two passengers in comfort, that will have all the speed desired, burn very little gasoline and may be built at a moderate price, and the experts say the air flivver can be made sufficiently safe to induce large numbers of people to buy and use them.

This baby airplane will be superior to larger aircraft because it will be lighter in proportion to its size than a larger plane and it can be made to have an area of wing which is very large, relative to its weight. The lighter the wing loading, the slower the speed of landing, and this small plane, alighting at twenty miles an hour, would be less liable to accident than a large plane that must approach the ground at the speed of an express train. With this small plane, also, a large hangar is not necessary and the plane, with wings folded, could travel under its own power on the highway to the nearest flying field. Being lightly loaded, the small plane can make a quick get-away and any open space will do to fly from.

Will the new problem of air traffic be upon us before we have solved that of automobile traffic, or will increased air travel help to relieve the congestion upon our roads? It is not likely that it will, for aircraft will not answer the purpose of the automobile, in many cases, and there are still a good many people who will prefer, for the present, to remain on the ground, even though travel by air is easy, inexpensive and safe. And, then, these mosquitoes, traveling along the roads, with wings folded, to the flying field will not help to clear the roads.

TAX PUBLICITY PROTESTED

As was expected, President Coolidge renewed his objections to the publicity feature of the new revenue law at the present session of Congress. When the bill was before Congress he took the position that publicity was unnecessary as a means of promoting revenue and that the desire to avoid the gratification of the idle curiosity of others or the exposure of one's personal affairs to one's competitors would result in the concealment of millions of dollars of income which would otherwise be reported.

Demand on the collectors for income tax information comes chiefly from four sources, it is said: Real estate dealers and others who are looking for prospects, business rivals trying to get a line on what their competitors are doing, lawyers seeking information for or about clients and principals in divorce cases. Collectors have found it necessary to limit the time when income tax information may be given out to certain days of the week and certain hours of the day. Requests for lists of persons paying taxes of $10,000 and over, and the like, are, of course, refused.

Senator Smoot, chairman of the Senate finance committee, says the Mellon plan to reduce surtaxes was not to favor the rich, but to get taxes down to a point where capital would not seek tax-exempt securities, but would keep money in business where it is taxable. When tax rates are too high, some way will be found to avoid them. Those who opposed this feature of the revenue bill are responsible for the revenue clause, and now their position is proving a boomerang.

Protests are being received against the publicity feature by Senator Smoot. It would not be surprising if this stupid measure should be repealed very shortly.

POSTOFFICE DEFICIT

Postmaster General New's report shows that the postoffice deficit the past year has amounted to $14,428,137, and he expresses himself as gratified that there is a reduction in the deficit from the preceding year. It would seem that the Postoffice Department ought to pay its own way, and that if properly managed there should not be a deficit. We would not have our postal system managed by private interests, but if it were it is safe to say there would not be a deficit, for private individuals and corporations do not run business that way. The Postmaster General says the first duty of the department is to render satisfactory service, irrespective of whether or not expenditures have been kept within the revenue. Private concerns are compelled to render satisfactory service, keep the expenditures within the revenue and also make a profit. The Postoffice Department has the problem of increased service to contend with all of the time, but private business has the same handicap.

Of course, the postmaster general does not have a free hand in fixing rates and in other matters that would enable him to coordinate the work of his department efficiently, but it would seem to the casual observer that the Postoffice Department should be run like any other business, except that it would not be required to show a profit.

HOME BREWING MADE EASY

There seems not to be the fullest possible co-ordination between some of the departments of the federal government. It is said that Representative Hill of Maryland, who recently had a little trouble with the prohibition enforcement officials, used government recipes in making his home brew. The department of justice is fighting the home manufacture of liquor, while the department of agriculture comes along with recipes for "making vinegar on the farm and in the home," in which it is explained that there are two kinds of fermentation, alcoholic and acetic, and how to bring about both. They also give the formula for "the farm manufacture of unfermented apple juice." Of course, time is the only element required to make fermented apple juice, otherwise known as hard cider, when once we have made unfermented apple juice.

A man who manufactured sweet cider and who wished to stimulate his market had labels printed in large red letters, which he pasted on each jug. These labels conveyed a warning that if this cider were kept a certain length of time it would ferment. This seemed to satisfy everyone concerned.

HEY! DON'T BLOW OUT THE GAS!

Why People Do Not Vote

By DR. FRANK CRANE

The principal reason why people do not vote is that they have nothing to vote about.

We are, in the United States, under the party system. That system works out as a means for getting certain men elected, not to make certain issues triumphant.

For this cause each party straddles every issue as far as it can.

In the recent political conventions each party straddled the question of Know-nothingism, Ku Kluxism, the tariff and every other plain issue.

Men would vote if they had an opportunity to vote clearly upon any subject that interests them.

Both parties now, for instance, are straddling the League of Nations. The Democratic party did not come out straightly and endorse it, neither did the Republican party.

Both those who are in favor of it and those who are opposed to it would welcome some opportunity to express themselves at the polls.

So with all other living issues. So long as we are governed by parties and place our faith in the party system, we are doomed to a small and unrepresentative vote because, all in all, the people of the United States do not care which group of men is in power.

What we need is a campaign to bring out the issues more than to bring out the voters. If there were anything to vote about, the voters would be anxious to express themselves.

People who were indifferent as to whether Coolidge, Davis or La Follette were president couldn't be blamed for staying away from the polls.

If we could only go back to the system of our fathers, if we could only get rid of political parties and elect our representatives as they were primarily elected, we might accomplish something.

According to present news the election cost the Republican party several million dollars and also cost the Democratic party almost as much. The Progressives were also anxious to raise funds.

Election by the party system is a wasteful method. It is based upon the system of competition, which is radically wrong. Nothing is gained by men fighting each other, but all is gained by good will and fellowship. This is not promoted by political parties.

It is essentially a system of strife. The reason why the average man does not vote is stated by Principal Jacks:

"He distrusts not only the system, but still more the type of mind of personality, of leadership, which has become the recognized exponent of these things, and regards both the system and the mind that works it as not big enough, either morally or intellectually, to govern such a world as ours."

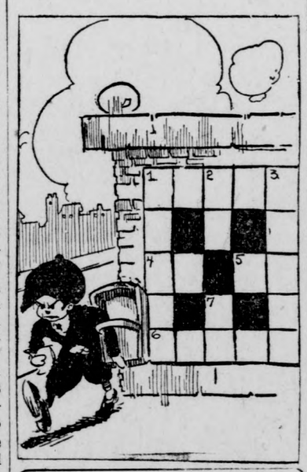
Puzzle



10 Years Ago

Thanks to the timely warning sent out over Southern California on Monday to look out for frost Tuesday morning, the fruit growers got busy with their smudge pots and prevented Jack Frost from doing damage.

On Sunday, December 6, Charles Bock of 1521 Vine street celebrated his 85th birthday.

Monday night the old ranch house belonging to Mrs. Peverly at the foot of Broadway, across San Fernando road, was completely destroyed by fire.

Do You Know

Industries in Sweden have succeeded in making cellulose without the odor that accompanied former processes.

More than fifty street carnival companies are in the United States this summer.

Who's Who

According to word from authoritative sources in London, Vice-Admiral Sir Osmond de Beauvoir Brock, R. N., commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean station, will be named to succeed Admiral Beatty as First Lord of Admiralty upon the latter's resignation at the end of the year.

Vice-Admiral Brock has been at the Mediterranean post for the last two years. He was appointed a Lord Commissioner of the Admiralty in 1919, which position he held for two years. During the war he was a prominent figure in the naval engagements in the North sea and in 1916 in the battle of Jutland Bank.

In 1910 Brock was made assistant director of naval mobilization, 1913 he became aide-de-camp to his majesty and in 1915 he was advanced to the rank of admiral.

In addition to being a member of the royal navy, Brock enjoys the distinction of being a companion of the Bath, a Knight Commander of the Bath, a Companion of St. Michael and St. George, a Knight Commander of St. Michael and St. George and a Knight Commander of the Royal Victorian order.

Brock is to be remembered as the man who during the World war carried the responsibility of protecting Christian civilization against the advance of the Kemalistic Turks.

Today's Poem

I came from the sunny valleys
And sought for the open sea,
For I thought in its gray expanses
My peace would come to me.

I came at last to the ocean,
And found it wild and black,
And I cried to the windless valleys
"Be kind and take me back."

But the thirsty tide ran inland,
And the salt waves drank of me,
And I who was fresh as the rainfall
Am bitter as the sea.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNARD

CONTRARY VIEWS

A free born man!

"Mere jugglery of words," commented Ibsen. "There are none! Marriage, the relations between man and woman, have corrupted the race and set the seal of slavery upon all."

"Marriage! Nothing else demands so much from a man!"

Ibsen saw modern society not as a fellowship of mankind; but only as a fusion of men.

His fundamental principle in every field and domain of thought was that the minority are always in the right.

"It's a lie that truth always belongs to the majority," he asserted. "What kind of truths do the majority rally around? They are truths so old that they are positively decrepit with age. When a truth is hoary with years it is in a fair way to become a lie.

"A normally constituted truth will live, say, about seventeen to eighteen, at the very outside twenty years, seldom longer. But such ancient truths are always shockingly emaciated."

"The majority is never right," he wrote at another time. "Never, I say. That is one of society's lies against which a free, thoughtful man must rebel.

"Who are they who make up the majority in a country? Are they the wise men or the foolish?"

Is there anyone who has not, at some given moment, recognized in himself a hive of contradictions—between his word and his deed, his will and his work, his life and his principles?

Who is there who has not at some time selfishly held himself to be all-sufficient, and half-unconsciously, half knowingly, excused his attitude to both himself and to others?

Well, remember this is true of all men.

"Do not be one thing today and another next year," Ibsen advises us. "Whatever you are, be it wholly and utterly, not by fits and starts."

"Each lies to himself as well as to the world."

Here Are Winners In Limerick Contest

By LIMERICK EDITOR
Of The Evening News.

Well, anyway, the rain didn't interfere with the Limerick Editor's making a decision. The flood of limericks in The Glendale Evening News' fourth limerick contest, which closed at midnight Friday, busted all records.

A. W. VAN LOON, 125 North Adams, gets the first prize of $3 and a paper umbrella. Here is his contribution:

A man-eating shark had the croup,
When it coughed made a noise like a whoop.
But its noise I declare
Don't begin to compare
With the noise of a man-eating soup.

S. A. ALLEN, 314 Lawson building, gets second prize, $2 and many thanks for this contribution:

There was an old miser named Lent,
For newspapers not a coin ever spent,
He'd climb up a tree,
Yell "Look! I can see
Everything without it costing a cent."

Mrs. A. A. BARTON, 318 East Mountain, gets the third prize, $1, and best wishes for a Merry Christmas for offering this:

Just how and with what shall we pave,
Is the question on which we all rave,
Paving firms all about
Have us filled with doubt
'Till we wish we still lived in a cave.

And there you have the winners, bless 'em! Will there be another limerick contest? Well, the Limerick Editor has to call a halt for a little while in order to do his Christmas shopping early.

Incidentally, during the last contest, the Limerick Editor, received a limerick written by "Aunt Addie" Harter, age 90, a member of The Glendale Evening News Sunset clb. She takes a keen interest in affairs of today, despite her age. Here's her limerick:

I met a boy from the south,
His name was Robert Blair.
He came to California
And met a girl with bobbed hair.
He fell in love with her.
He thought her the best,
But when he found her out,
She was no better than the rest.

The Limerick Editor of The Glendale Evening News will take pleasure in sending "Aunt Addie a special prize for her offering.

Mrs. Estella Newman, winner of $1 in a previous limerick contest, sent in this:

I took a shot at the Limerick Man,
I hit him, so I'll try it again.
I took aim at his collar
And knocked out a dollar
And a nice little plush frying pan.

Speaking of Christmas, here's one from N. C. Morse, 121½ North Belmont:

Old Santa got caught in a gale
As he crossed Alsaka's broad swale,
Oh, pray that his sleigh
And his reindeer so gay
May arrive "on time" in Glendale.

Paving proved a popular topic, with a number of contributors. For instance, here's one from James Everington, 206 Fairview:

A paving contractor was he,
And, like the proverbial bee,
He gathered his honey,
The people's good money,
From pavements with waves like the sea.

S. S. Lawrence, salesman for Comalt Co., Inc., deserves a boost in pay, and his company should receive a call from The Glendale Evening News business office for this one:

There was an old man in Glendale
With a tummy as large as a whale,
But he said, "What care I,
There's room to put by
A case of Dublin Dry Gingerale."

And there, folks you have some of the contributions in the fourth limerick contest. The Limerick Editor has enjoyed his task, he has had a whole lot of fun—and work—and that popularity of the four contests was great, as is evidenced by the display of limericks in the south window of The Glendale Evening News office, 139 South Brand boulevard.

Clubwomen on Record Opposing Bobbed Hair

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 8.—Bobbed hair is unfemine, not dignified and tends to eliminate the line between the sexes according to the overwhelming opinion of Sacramento clubwomen expressed after a spirited debate. Mrs. Ethel Tyler, president of the women's bureau of the chamber of commerce advocated the innovation and declared it sanitary and becoming. City Librarian Susan T. Smith favored long tresses and declared bobbed hair was but a passing fad. Mrs. Charles L. Gilmore was greeted with applause when she exhibited her long hair and when the vote was tallied. members of the Tuesday club were almost a unit in favor of the utterance of Miss Smith that a "woman's crowning glory is her hair."

Farm Ownership Plan Boosted by Tax Club

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8.—Farm ownership rather than tenant farming will be encouraged in California by the adoption of the proposed "tax relief" amendment, according to a statement issued today by the Tax Relief association, of which David Woodhead, Los Angeles lumberman, is president. The amendment to be presented to the legislature in January for submission to the people by referendum, proposes to exemtp from taxation $2000 worth of improvements on land to each individual taxpayer, and to exempt all personal property from ordinary taxation. Diversified farming will be encouraged as against temporary one-crop farming.

CHILDREN'S BATHROBES

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Mother Goose has come pleasantly to the fore again. This time she and her associates are the pattern on the double-faced flannels in pink, white and blue, which are intended for children's bathrobes.

The Polish government paid $703,725 for twenty-eight locomotives for its railroads last year.

GINSENG AS DRUG NOT USED IN U. S.

Chinese Object to Failure Of American Doctors To Employ Roots

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Dec. 8.—Believing that ginseng, which is produced in large quantities in Ohio and exported to China, possesses properties which prolong life, Chinese are protesting because it is not recognized as a medicine in the United States. Pharmacopœia, which has just been translated into Chinese," said Theodore D. Wetterstroem, secretary of the Ohio Pharmaceutical association.

Ginseng is a perennial plant, with an aromatic root—called "seng" by Chinese—for which the Chinese pay $16 a pound, according to Secretary Wetterstroem, who stated that, although American pharmacists do not believe it has any medicinal value, the Chinese esteem it very highly.

"As a result of the translation of the Pharmacopoeia, the Chinaman is using the "Melican man's medicine," said Wetterstroem. "This is expected to open up new markets for American drugs and medicines."

Physician Says Wife Annoyed His Patients

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8.—Dr. Louis A. Pindler, a practicing physician, alleged in a divorce complaint filed today against Rose S. Pindler, bride of a few months, that she was so jealous of his women patients that she looked over the transom of his office and made a practice of peeping through the keyhole and into the windows.

They were married Mach 11 last, and separated August 4, it was stated. In that time, Mrs. Pindler succeeded in causing her husband great annoyance and worry he declared. She sometimes insisted on interviewing his women patients herself and in telling them there was nothing the matter with them and that she believed they only came there to be with her husband.

Bulgarian Bachelors Cursing Stambolisky

SOFIA, Dec. 8.—Thirty thousan Bulgarian bachelors are cursing the shade of Stambolisky. The government has revived a Stambolisky government measure taxing bachelors, declaring that the lew is legal and that it will go into effect on January 1, 1925.

There are 100,000 fewer females than males in Bulgaria, so the bachelors are complaining that they have no way of escaping the tax by turning benedicts. The government's answer is that there are surplus women in neighboring states, and there is no objection to importation of wives.

American Eagles Are Found In Coyote Trap

PARADISE, Nev., Dec. 8.—Two huge American eagles, fluttering round in vain effort to escape the seel jaws of the coyote traps which held them prisoner confronted Jose Gartiez when he made his daily round today in search of coyote victims. The birds were brought to Paardise and fed several live rabbits which they greedily devoured. Gartiez is in a quandary with his new charges and has written to the officials of several municipal parks offering them as his donation.

Gas Poisoning Is Fatal To 3,600 During Year

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—More than 3600 persons lost their lives last year through gas poisoning, according to Richard E. Kropf, supreme regent of the Royal Arcanum, who addressed a home-safety conference here. Nearly 3400 more died from other forms of poisoning, while electricity accounted for the deaths of close to 1000 more, he announced.

BUTTONS STYLISH

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Buttons are playing a role more important than for many seasons past. There is no gown smarter than the tailleur in cloth which has a row of buttons—often in gleaming brass—unbroken from neck to hem.

The white of an egg and rattlesnake poison are formed of identically the same amounts of the same elements.

How we all love to see a man excel in any line of sport or in his chosen vocation. But do we ever stop to think of the hours of preparation and labor that were necessary before that man was able to lead all others? SUCCESS IS SELDOM ATTAINED BY A HAPHAZARD COURSE OF ACTION. Careful plans must be made, and those plans must be diligently followed out. Are you going through life with no thought for the future? There will come a time when your earning capacity will decrease. What preparation are you making for that emergency? A few dollars saved each month now will assure you of an income during your old age.

We are offering you an opportunity to invest with us under a very liberal partial payment plan. THINK IT OVER AND THEN DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT. Careful consideration is alright and proper, but IT TAKES ACTION TO GET RESULTS.

One or more units of our securities would make a very suitable Christmas gift, both enduring and valuable.

You can invest for only $20 down and $10 a month, and you will receive interest on each partial payment.

Trading at Home Is Second Nature to Many

New people are coming to Glendale every day, fresh from the older settlements of the east and middle west. It is not to be expected that these newcomers should be as loyal to Glendale as the older settlers, and yet most of them are.

Glendale is to them a little like the adopted child who told her playmate, "Your parents had to take you but mine picked me out." The very fact that they selected Glendale out of thousands of other places in the United States is proof that Glendale has an appeal that promotes pride and loyalty.

The newcomer becomes a Glendalian at once. He becomes acclimated immediately and Glendale's advantages and problems become his. Ten to one this new citizen has become one of us because he visited Glendale, saw our splendid, growing business district, and decided that a city of such push and hustle was a good place to call home.

It follows naturally, then, that having been attracted by our fine stores and offices and our business activity, that Mr. New Citizen transacts his business and spends his money in his newly-adopted city.

So Glendale business is indebted to the newcomer as well as to the older settler for the rapid strides it has taken.

The advertisers on this page recognize and acknowledge their indebtedness to the new people as well as to the older citizens of Glendale; to all those to whom Community Loyalty is instinctive; to those who buy at home because it is the natural thing to do, not because they have analyzed the matter and come to the conclusion that it is to their own interest; not because they have stopped to consider that money spent in Glendale will return to them by way of added local improvements and increased property values; but just because Community Loyalty is part of their natures.

These are the people who are helping to build a Greater Glendale.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, Dec. 8.—Earl Dufur will head the Chamber of Commerce for 1925, succeeding Charles B. Wood, who has been acting president since R. W. Colburn's resignation some months back.

At the annual election of directors a year ago, Mr. Dufur received the largest number of votes of all the candidates and a strenuous effort was made to get him to accept the presidency, but without avail. After much persuasion on this occasion, Mr. Dufur has consented to accept the position at this time.

J. W. Charleville, for the past year secretary-manager of the chamber, has been re-elected to the same position for another year.

The other officers elected were as follows: David J. Bricker, vice-president; Bert Cross, second vice-president; E. O. Stumbo, treasurer.

Thirty Elks in the Burbank jurisdiction are charter members of the newly organized local lodge. They are:

Thomas V. Walker, A. C. Fillbach, Bert A. Cross, W. P. Coffman, J. B. Brown, Jules E. Albert, A. S. Brayman, O. O. Budd, E. O. Church, George W. Morse, Don Jolley., F. Curt Miller, H. C. Dunning, Frank D. Joanis, J. C. Isbell, Frank P. Otis, Dominic Morro, Harry B. Kendig, E. J. Jackson, F. L. Welch, George F. Kendig, Paul O. Martin, Clarence A. Thompson, G. W. Summers, R. H. Lange, W. E. Monroe, R. G. Malone, H. E. Wolfe, J. F. Scribner and Dr. A. E. W. Yale.

R. P. Young of 635 Tujunga avenue is now at Clear lake, taking pictures for the movies. He will go to the petrified forests and other attractions in the north to make pictures.

LANKERSHIM

LANKERSHIM, Dec. 8.—A new light is shed on the murder of Fred W. Ferrer by the statement of A. Hurst, owner of the Los Angeles apartment house where the dead man lived, that Ferrer was a chemist and had formulated a deadly fume that he was trying to sell to certain nations for war use.

The deserted house in which the man was found is said to have been a rendezvous of bootleggers and at least one shooting affray is understood to have occurred there. Neighbors believe Ferrer was slain elsewhere and dragged to this house.

The verdict returned by the coroner's inquest was to the effect that the deceased had met death "by a compound fracture of the skull, caused by some blunt instrument in the hands of a person or persons unknown to the jurors."

TRAVEL LECTURE TONIGHT AT CLUB

Dr. Wilmett Burton To Talk On Scenic Splendors Of Sunny France

The first of two lectures will be given tonight at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse by Dr. Wilmett Burton, lecturer, world traveler and author. Another lecture will be given tomorrow night and both will be accompanied by 2000 feet of motion picture scenes and fifty colored stereopticon slides. The affair is being given under the auspices of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

Dr. Burton was an officer in the French army during the war and recently returned to America from a prolonged stay in the Orient. The travel talk tonight at 8 o'clock will be on France. Tomorrow night the subject will be England. Following the two-hour performances Dr. Burton will be host to his audiences at receptions.

Every student of a Japanese middle or secondary school must study English four years.

CHRISTIAN VIRTUE REV. KEMP'S TALK

Outstanding Virtues of Model Life Emphasized At St. Mark's Church

"The Christian Virtue of Patience" was the theme of the sermon delivered at St. Mark's Episcopal church yesterday morning by Rev. Philip K. Kemp, rector of the church, who said:

"One of the outstanding virtues of the Christian life is that of patience. We commonly associate it with old age and speak of the impatience of youth in terms of reproach, too often we imagine that old age alone has the proper perspective which enables us to form right judgment in all things. In the cultivation of the Christian life patience as interpreted by Jesus Christ is most essential. He has given it to us as one of the attributes of God.

"As we think of the patience of God in the long period of human history we are ashamed of our own shortcomings. The calm poise of God who bears with us in all our trials as he leads us along the slow road of experience to the better day. What goes on in our own lives has taken place in the great drama of history as given us in the chronicle of Israel. How often they tried the patience of God as He revealed the nobler life of service.

Book of Isaiah

In the book of Isaiah we have given us the great picture of that model of patience, the suffering servant who has been taken as a type of Christ. He suffered afflictions from God yet not for his own sins but for those of others that by his life of patience he might bring them back to God. This vision of the prophet became a reality in our savior Christ, who in his life of patience in the midst of misunderstanding, antagonism and hatred became the great symbol of self-control. He is for us the great example by showing us how it can be done. Our Savior and Rescuer who has given us the better way of life and brought us back to God the shepherd and bishop of our souls."

MONTROSE NOTES

MONTROSE, Dec. 8.—Women of the Episcopal Guild of St. Luke of the Mountains are very happy over the success of the thrift sale held in the Kohl building on Saturday. Jars of jams and jellies donated by Mrs. Seymour Thomas were given with every purchase, home-cooked foods found a ready sale, while the doughnuts were not enough for the many who desired to purchase them. Miss Dowling of Los Angeles made them during the afternoon. Garments not sold will be distributed to those in need of them by Deaconness Grebe of the Diocese of Los Angeles. About $47 was cleared for the building fund of the new church.

Tuesday, December 9, members of the home economics department of the La Crescenta Valley Women's club will meet at the home of Mrs. H. Nerwin, 573 Florencita drive. Those desiring to be present for luncheon are requested to notify Mrs. Merwin, so those having charge will be able to provide for the guests, as the last time less than half of those expected were present.

Mrs. H. Compton of Sacramento is visiting at the home of Mrs. J. Sechler while her home is being put in readiness for her occupation.

Stephen Myers is driving a new Studebaker sedan.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Cook entertained as their week-end guests Mrs. Cook's father and brother, W. L. Flagg and son, Harley, of San Diego.

Five hundred new boxes have been ordered for the Montrose postoffice as the number in use at present is not adequate for the increased service. Mr. Belanger, who owns the building housing the Montrose postoffice, has added an addition, making the office about twice its original size, plans have been prepared for a new building to be built the first of the year.

AT VERDUGO CITY

VERDUGO CITY, Dec. 8.—Very few people attended the impromptu dance given Saturday night at the Fowler building. Lack of publicity accounted for the meagre attendance. However, those who were present enjoyed the splendid music by the Verdugo Hills orchestra, who are becoming very popular for their good dance music.

Next Saturday night there will be a big party in the Verdugo City auditorium in honor of the opening of the entire building. Special music will be provided for the occasion by the local orchestra. Refreshments will be served. The proceeds from the affair will go to the Los Angeles Protective association. The Hobensack meat market, Cobb's grocery, Mrs. Towerline's vegetable stand are all preparing for the opening.

Through the article in these columns stating Mrs. Fenton was anxious to recover her lost Collie pup, Flash, as he is called, is home again. Mrs. Fenton desires to thank The Glendale Evening News for their courtesy in this matter.

Autoists are still using the Hermosa avenue detour due to the lower end of South Los Angeles being shut off for the regrading and lowering of the street level, which, when completed, will cut off the sharp angle at this intersection which has been somewhat of a menace to autoists and pedestrians alike.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Dec. 8.—The contract for construction of sewers in this section has been let to Adam Dalmatin, whose bid of $166,000 was low. Mike Miller, whose bid was low in the first instance, will cooperate with Mr. Dalmatin, as he has many local residents signed up. Miller's bid was rejected by the city engineer, along with all others, on the grounds that it was "too low."

The Eagle Rock lodge of Free and Accepted Masons held their dedication ceremonies at their new Masonic Temple, 5016 Caspar avenue last Friday night. David M. Reese, grand master of the state of California, acted as presiding officer and other members of the Grand Lodge were present. The balance of the stations were filled by visiting past masters and masters of other lodges of this state.

H. L. Pickett staged a sensation at the recent Kiwanis "birthday party" when he appeared at the movie star, wringing his hands and weeping and claimed that he was "a deserted wife." The ruse worked and Charles Goodale was the "goat."

Last Friday night, December 5, at 8 o'clock, husbands of officers took full charge of the "Fathers' Night" meeting at the Eagle Rock Central school. Aside from the entertaining program arranged, there was an instructive address and discussion on "The Responsibility of the Father in the Rearing of the Child." Bruce A. Findlay, Assistant to Superintendent of Schools, Mrs. Susan B. Dorsey, gave the address. Dr. H. B. Crawford, of Eagle Rock conducted a round table discussion of the subject of the evening.

VAN NUYS

VAN NUYS, Dec. 8.—Mrs. Mary Pauli of Calhoun street is reported very low with the mysterious malady, botulinus.

Recently Mrs. Pauli opened a can of home-prepared corn. The contents did not look just right and she and her son took a taste of it. They decided to throw the corn away. One of the chickens in the yard ate some of the corn and died. Soon after, the son grew ill but recovered quickly. Later Mrs. Pauli complained of double vision in her eyesight and of feeling feverish.

Industrial Surveys on State Realty Program

statement that subsidies to industries have injured more cities than they have aided.

Agents of each of the three large transcontinental railways entering Los Angeles addressed the conference, agreeing that an era of great industrial expansion for California is at hand.

All speakers agreed that a city must have an industrial survey such as Los Angeles and Burbank have just completed, in order to be in the best position to "sell' its advantages to industries seeking new locations. The delegates voted the Anaheim conference an unqualified success and it was the desire of all that another such conference be held early in 1925, probably in some Northern California city.

Among the eighteen member of the Glendale realty board present at the sessions was the entire personnel of the industrial committee: W. L. Truitt, chairman; Arthur Campbell, E. D. Hamlin and W. T. Nimmons.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, Dec. 8.—M. F. Gilmer, deputy commissioner of the Boy Scouts for the Tujunga-Sunland district, has been elected district chairman of the Boy Scout organization, succeeding A. C. Stover, who was elected vice-chairman. W. C. Jay, former scout executive of Kearney, Nebraska, was elected deputy scout commissioner for the district.

A budget of $600 is to be raised in the district and a drive is now being made for this objective. The drive is scheduled to run through this week, when the officials expect to have raised the sum. The membership of the committee is made up of representatives of civic, fraternal and religious organizations. Chairmen of committees appointed are: Leo Smith, finance; Clarence C. Buck, court of honor; Don S. Wieman, camping; Carroll W. Parcher, publicity.

Strengthening the finances of the organization and securing a large representative vote in selecting the new board of directors is the object of the Tujunga Cemetery association in offering voting full privileges to all purchasers of lots who pay a deposit of $10, or to those donating $10 to the fund. The land for the cemetery was given by the California Home Extension company and under the direction of a board of directors named by the company the association has been organized, a state charter obtained, surveys and plots made and lots staked out. Expense, to date, has been covered by the sale of lots and the board of directors believe the organization should now be turned over to the owners of lots. Anyone paying or donating $10 to the fund is considered a stockholder.

Arrangements have been made by the Woman's club to bring Branson De Cue here for an illustrated lecture, January 28.

Tujunga stores have secured and are displaying the best Christmas stocks ever exhibited in the valley.

Combination Air Services Is Proposed

By FRED J. WALKER
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—A bill providing for the formation of a united air service was introduced in the House yesterday by Congressman, Curry, Republican, of California.

The measure would combine all of America's air forces into a division of aeronautics headed by a new cabinet member to be appointed by the president.

The fostering and development of aeronautics, the granting of licenses to all civilian pilots and the promulgation of regulations governing international, interstate and intra-state flying at present directed by many departments of the government, would all be centralized under the secretary of aeronautics, according to the new measure.

A total of 2,000 commissioned officers and 20,000 men are provided for, together with the establishment of an aeronautical academy and such aircraft factories as may be authorized by law.

CHAPTER XXXIX

"Not our job."

"Hadn't I better go down and have a look at him?" he persisted.

"Stay where you are, damn you!" was the angry reply. "We're twenty-six knots with a cloud of rain ahead, and thirty fishing boats somewhere about. Attend to your job.

There was a certain irony about Susan's reappearance aft. Grant's string quartette band, of which he was so proud, had begun to play soft music. Funderstrom had rejoined the little group and was sitting upon the outskirts, cold and silent as ever. Gertrude and Rose were listening to the music, but the latter was clearly uneasy. She welcomed Susan eagerly.

"Susan, where is everybody?" she exclaimed. "I never knew anything so mysterious. Mr. Slattery hasn't been back all the time. Prince von Diss has disappeared, and now even Mr. Blunn has deserted us."

"I suppose it's the trouble about the engines," Susan observed. "I don't think there's anything to be alarmed at, though. The sea's quite calm even if we do break down."

Mr. Cornelius Blunn suddenly came into evidence. He stepped through the companionway with the obvious air of having something to say.

"There is no cause for alarm," he assured them; "the whole affair is a mere trifle, but Mr. Slattery has met with a slight accident. He seems to have slipped coming down the steps from the bridge. We've taken him into the saloon. If one of you ladies, who is accustomed to bandaging—"

Gertrude and Susan both rose to their feet. Susan, however, was halfway down the stairs before the others had started. Grant was lying upon a sofa, and a steward was bathing his forehead. He looked up as Susan entered. She hurried over to his side and waved the steward away.

"Are you hurt, Grant?" she whispered eagerly.

"Not I," he answered. "I'm making the worst of it, but I shall be all right in half an hour. It's a fair enough fight, Susan, but these fellows are in earnest, especially Blunn. Look here, Nicholson and Martin must be locked up in the chief engineer's quarters. All the bells are cut, but the captain's boy is certain to find them within half an hour. The worst of it is, we shall be in sight of Monaco in an hour or so if they keep this speed up."

"They sha'n't," she declared. "Tell me. Who's my man? Where shall I go, the engine room, or the bridge?"

Grant smiled.

"Bravo, child!" he muttered. "Look out! They're coming. The bridge!"

Susan turned away with a little shiver of excitement. Gertrude, who had just hurried in, knelt down by Grant's side and called to the steward.

"Some more hot water and lint," she directed. "Some disinfectant, if you have it, and a sponge. Please leave this to me, all of you. I'm used to bandaging, but I hate to have too many people around."

Susan left the saloon stealthily and made her way back on deck. She walked up the lee side and climbed the stairs down which Grant had been thrown. The officer in charge was standing, looking steadily at the light far ahead. He suddenly felt a touch on his arm and turned round with a start to find Susan by his side.

"Do you mind my talking to you for a minute," she whispered. "We're all scared—so afraid that we're going to break down or something."

"We're all right," the young man declared, a little thickly.

"Shall we get back to Monaco tonight?"

"In about two hours' time. We shall see the lights presently."

"What is our course just now, then?" she enquired.

"Almost due north," he replied. "There's just a point or two of east in it. You'd better get down, your ladyship. Mr. Slattery doesn't allow any one on the bridge unless he brings them here himself."

She edged a little away from him.

"Where do you give your orders to the engine room?" she asked.

He pointed to the chart house behind. She nodded.

"I have brought you a message from Mr. Slattery," she said.

He looked at her suspiciously. There was something stealthy and guarded in her attitude. The wind was blowing her hair back from her face. It was a very strong capable face—a stronger face than his own. His eyes, too—soft and brown, but compelling—seemed to hold him.

"Mr. Slattery's message," she went on, "is that you alter the course to due south. Will you please ring down to the engine room at once and reverse your course."

"I can't do that, your ladyship," he declined. "I have my orders. I must stick to them."

"And I have mine," she said, from Mr. Slattery. I have never broken my word in my life and you can take this from me, just as though I were a man. I'm not going to risk killing you outright, but I'm going to shoot you first through one leg and then through the other, unless you do as you're ordered."

"Pooh! Don't be silly," he exclaimed, moving towards her. "I'm twice as quick as you are and a great deal more used to firearms."

"Quick, I say!"

The muzzle of her pistol gleamed wickedly in the light which shone from the chart room. The young man stood and looked ahead of him miserably.

"What a night!" he groaned.

PITTS PLAYERS

"Nomaia of the North" is now showing nightly at the tent theater of Pitts Players, San Fernando boulevard at Cedar street, Burbank, the curtain rising at 8:15 o'clock. The play is of the red-blooded variety, the locale being the Canadian north woods. Laughs and thrills intermingle to produce intense drama.

The cast of "Nomaia of the North" comprises a talented group of artists who last won the hearts of Glendale and Burbank theatergoers with their excellent production of "The Crimson Nemesis." Seeing Pitts Players is becoming a popular nightly pastime of hundreds of local people. The management assures all patrons that ample parking space for cars has been provided and that the tent has many special features for the comfort of those who desire to see a play under the most advantageous circumstances.

THE GLENDALE

"The Legend of Hollywood" continues at the Glendale theater.

GATEWAY THEATRE

Hollywood can supply a movie producer with practically any type of actor that is needed, but its capacities were taxed recently for characters to play in the "Roman" mob in the photoplay-within-a-photoplay which is a feature of the Samuel Goldwyn comedy success, "In Hollywood with Potash and Perlmutter."

Director Alfred Green selected every member of the group which forms the audience during the sacrifice of the martyrs in the Roman arena. Every one of these types are of necessity pronouncedly Hebraic and their appearance as Roman citizens forms just one of the laughs in this unusual comedy.

The story of "In Hollywood with Potash and Perlmutter" details the humorous, thrilling and sometimes near-tragic adventures of Abe and Mawruss in the business of producing motion pictures. Included in the partners' activities is the production of a picture "like Ben Hur, only more original," to quote one of Montague Glass' famous titles. Hence the presence of numerous relatives of the partners in the guise of Roman officials, nobles and citizens.

A notable cast headed by Alexander Carr, George Sidney, Vera Gordon and Betty Blythe is featured in this First National picture. Frances Marion adapted the New York comedy success "Business Before Pleasure," by Montague Glass, to the screen. It is a First National Picture at Gateway Theatre today and Tuesday.

DOBINSON PLAYERS

"Only Thirty-eight" will open at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre Wednesday night, announces Mrs. Florence Dobinson of the Dobinson Players. The play has a college atmosphere and is noted for its clever plot and funny situations. The play is from the pen of A. E. Thomas, one of America's leading dramatists.

Wednesday and Thursday nights the performances will be for the benefit of the local American Legion post and large numbers of Legionnaires and their friends will be present.

A splendid cast is promised for "Only Thirty-eight," which bids fair to be the best play yet presented by the Dobinson Players. This is said to be the best of all college plays and was a great success in the cast.

THE T. D. & L.

Marion Davies in "Janice Meredith" continues at the T. D. & L. Theater.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND JOLLIE'S CHEESE CAKE

Uncle Wiggily was hopping through the woods one day, having left his hollow stump bungalow to seek an adventure, when, all of a sudden, the rabbit gentleman heard a rustling in the dry leaves.

"That's just the sort of noise the Fuzzy Fox makes when he is creeping after me," thought Uncle Wiggily. "I must be careful!"

He looked around the edge of a big stump, but instead of the Fox he saw Jollie Longtail the mouse boy, scrabbling along in the dried and rustling leaves.

"Hello, Jollie!" called Uncle Wiggily in his most happy voice. "You seem very glad this morning. Are you going to a party?"

"It's almost as good as a party Uncle Wiggily," squeaked Jollie. "I'm going to the store to buy a cheese cake, and when I take it home mother will give me some, and my sister Jillie will have some, too."

"Ho! Ho! No wonder you are happy," laughed Uncle Wiggily. "I will go with you to the store and help you buy the cheese cake."

So the bunny gentleman and the little mouse boy skipped on through the woods together to the store. There Jollie bought a fine, large cheese cake, as large around as two Christmas pies and part of another one.

"This cheese cake is so large I never could have carried it all by myself," squeaked Jollie. "It's a good thing you came with me, Uncle Wiggily. You can help me."

So the mousie boy and the rabbit gentleman started hopping back through the woods to the hole house where Jollie lived. And as they passed under the trees the wind whispered:

"Be careful! Be careful! Watch out when you get to the top of the hill!"

"Now what do you mean by that, Mr. Wind?" asked Uncle Wiggily, as he twinkled his pink nose.

But all the wind answered was: "Be careful! Be careful! Watch out when you get to the top of the hill!"

So when Uncle Wiggily and Jollie reached the top of the hill of course they were careful, and they looked before they started to run down with the cheese cake.

And it was well that they did, for, at the bottom of the hill stood the hungry Bob Cat, waiting to catch them.

"Oh, ho! Oh, ho!" meaouwed the Bob Cat. "Come on down until I nibble you!"

Jollie was so frightened that he dropped his side of the big, round cheese cake. And it was so heavy that Uncle Wiggily couldn't hold it all alone, so the bunny dropped his side.

Then the cheese cake all by itself began rolling down the hill. Around and around it rolled, like a hoop. Faster and faster it twirled until, all of a sudden, when the cheese cake reached the bottom of the hill it bounced up and whanged the Bob Cat on his nose.

"Zippie zoopie!" the cheese cake hit the Bob Cat.

"Wowchie ouchie," howled the bad chap. "Oh, my nose! My nose!" and off to the drug store he ran to get a stuckum plaster.

Then Uncle Wiggily and Jollie ran down the hill and picked up the cheese cake, which was only cracked a little. But that didn't spoil it for eating and the bunny gentleman was given a large slice when the cheese cake was taken in Jollie's house.

So, after all, everything happened for the best; didn't it? And if the goldfish doesn't take the tinfoil off the yeast cake to make a looking glass for the rag doll, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Jillie's popcorn.

INSECTS IN THE EAR

A doctor hearing a commotion in his outer office looked out to find two small boys. One of them, with his hands clapped to his ear and his face distorted with fear and pain, was jumping around and screaming: "He's at it again! He's at it again!" The small boy's companion explained that while they were playing his chum suddenly screamed that something was jumping around in his ear, so he brought him to the nearest doctor's office.

The doctor, suspecting that an insect had blundered in, and knowing how insects are attracted to light, held a flashlight up to the boy's ear. Sure enough, the insect, obeying its instincts, slowly ambled out. The boys asked the doctor his fee. "One dollar." The doctor smiled. Whereupon the little fellow who was engineering the visit said in a much disgusted tone: "Huh! One Dollar! You didn't do nuthin' to take him out! He just walked out by hisself!"

Insects, in pursuit of their business or pleasure, not infrequently include ears in their itineraries. It is undoubtedly a very disagreeable experience for both the insect and the host, and, needless to say, the visitor should be ousted as soon as possible. The ear wax cerumen, a sticky, waxy substance with a rather strong odor—is secreted by the skin glands in the canal of the outer ear and was undoubtedly designed by nature to help kill off wandering insects as well as to lubricate the ear. Sooner or later the ear wax would demolish the intruder, but it may do some damage meanwhile, so the pest should be removed as soon as possible.

The method used by the doctor in the story may or may not be effective. In case an insect goes into a child's ear and you cannot make it walk out by "hisself," place the child on his side with the ear in question uppermost, and pour a teaspoon of slightly warmed glycerine, or oil, or toilet water, or hydrogen peroxide, into into his ear. If you haven't any of these on hand, some warm water will do. This will probably cause the insect to float out. If not, the ear should be syringed. Have the child hold a small basin under the ear; fill an all rubber ear syringe with warm water, and standing a little behind the child, pull the lobe of the ear slightly backward and upward, insert the nozzle of the syringe into the ear canal—leaving plenty of room for the water to run out—and press the bulb. Continue this treatment until the insect is washed out. Then have the child lie on out the excess water, and wipe the ear with wisps of cotton wound firmly around a toothpick or match.

It is always wiser to go to a physician for this treatment, but I realize you cannnot always do that and something has to be done immediately. Be sure the insect is out.

You remember the case I told you of some time ago that was reported by Dr. Paul Higbee in the American Medical Association Journal. It teaches us something so I am going to repeat it as it was in the Journal.

"A man, aged 36, stumbled and fell, February 18, 1922, striking on his chin. He was unconscious for a few seconds and, on recovering, experienced a sharp pain in his right ear. After the chin wound was dressed he was referred to me for examination of the ear. The external canal was blocked. A large amount of debris was removed, disclosing tightly packed cerumen, which was removed with difficulty. Following this came the remains of a dead cockroach, 13m.m in length and perfectly preserved in every detail.

"The patient in April, 1908, while preparing for a bath, felt a sudden pain and buzzing in the right ear, which drove him almost frantic. While his wife was telephoning for a physician, he put his head under the water in the tub and the pain soon ceased. Later, on the advice of the physician, the ear was syringed, but nothing was washed out of the ear, and it was supposed that the trouble was due to a small mite which had been lost in the washing. The patient gradually became deaf in this ear, but never consulted a physician, believing that some irreparable damage had been done to the ear by the insect which he thought he had washed out.

"After the removal of the cockroach and cleansing of the canal, hearing was fully normal, and the only evidence of injury was a slight abrasion of the drum. It seems probable that following the original injury in 1908, the canal became gradually filled with wax, thus entombing the insect in an airtight space and preserving it in toto for nearly 14 years."

The lesson we must get from this is not to accept gradually increasing deafness as a natural thing, but to realize we may have an earful of something more that needs the attention of an ear specialist.

Fish Chowder: Put three small slices of raw salt pork into a hot saucepan and let it sizzle till almost melted, then add one small peeled onion cut thin, and continue to fry till the onion is a light brown. Now add one pint of boiling water, two large potatoes pared and cut small, one and one-half teapoons of salt, a generous dash of pepper, and one and one-half pounds of either fresh cod or haddock in one piece. Cover the pot and let boil for 20 minutes. When the fish is tender remove bones, break it up with a fork, and then thicken the chowder with a mixture of two tablespoons of flour and one-half pint of sweet milk. When smoothly thickened, add another half pint of sweet milk, break two or three large unsweetened crackers into the chowder and serve.

Roast Duck with Onion Stuffing: Singe, wash and wipe the duck inside and out. Make a dressing of six onions chopped fine, one quart of breadcrumbs, two tablespoons of ground sage. one teaspoon of salt, a dash of pepper, a piece of butter the size of an egg, one beaten egg, and enough boiling water to moisten thoroughly. Stuff the duck with this mixture and sew it up. Put the liver and gizzard in the opening below the neck and do not sew up. Now rub the duck with butter and salt and put one-half teaspoon of salt at the opening over the giblets. Place the bird in the roasting pan and roast in a hot oven for two hours, possibly a little longer, now and then basting and adding a little boiling water to the pan-bottom. Turn the duck over when it has roasted one hour.

Cornmeal Omelet: Cook together, till thick, one large cup of water, one-half cup of cornmeal and one teaspoon of salt. Add to this mush a small piece of butter, one cup of sweet, cold milk, and the beaten yolks of two eggs. Fold into the mixture the stiffly-whipped whites of two eggs and pour all into a hot, buttered dish. Slip it into a fairly hot oven (a little hotter than "medium") and bake for 25 minutes.

White Cake: Cream together one cup of sugar and one-half cup of butter. Add one-half cup of sweet mlik alternately with two cups of flour mixed and sifted with two teaspoons of baking powder. Flavor with one teaspoon of vanilla extract and, last, fold in the stiffly-beaten whites of three eggs. Bake in a greased loaf-cake pan for 40 minutes in a moderate oven.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman, in care of the "Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Scout Conference

A number of Glendale people interested in the Girl Scout movement returned Sunday from attending the Girl Scout week-end conference from Friday to Sunday at the Pasadena Scout cabin, Lu Quesne, in Little Dalton canyon, near Glendora. This was the first Scout week-end conference ever held on the Pacific coast. The program was filled with interest from the opening to the close, and included instruction in troop management, first craft work, star gazing, singing and roundtable discussion. Miss Elsa Becker, from national headquarters, New York, and Miss Vaal Stark, regional director from Palo Alto, were directors of the conference. Miss Delia Belle Beechley, regional director of Pasadena, was hostess. Those in attendance were scout captains from Pasadena, Riverside, San Diego, Ontario, Los Angeles and vicinity. In one Glendale party were Mrs. W. P. Wichert, Mrs. J. E. Buie and Miss Betty Warren, who motored over Friday and remained until Sunday morning. Members of a party that left Glendale at 6 o'clock Sunday morning, to attend all sessions of the day and also enjoy a mountain hike were Miss Gladys Sharpe, Mary Stanley, Frederica Browne, Lina Borthick and Katherine Bender. Mrs. Davidson of Burbank Girl Scouts was also in attendance. Although the weather was not propitious, the affair was a great success, and proved intensely interesting to the fifty or more officers who attended.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

TREATING SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

One of the hardest of all queries to answer is how to get rid of superfluous hair on the face. There is only one really permanent method that I know of, the electric needle process. For years the chemists of beauty preparation and cosmetic laboratories have been working over this problem, but so far the needle method, used thirty or more years ago, is still the best.

What the chemists have done is this: Instead of a single needle, four or five are inserted at once in the hair follicles and the current turned on. Instead of one sting, there are four or five, but isn't unpleasant (not realy a stinging sensation at all, more like a mild pin prick). For some reason, this multiple needle process kills off most of the little ungrown hairs that live down in the skin, so that only about ten per cent of the hairs grow in again, instead of 30 per cent as with the single needle.

If you can afford these treatments, I always advise them. If not, rub your skin with peroxide and pull out the large hairs with a pair of tweezers. Touch the spot at once with peroxide, this makes the skin antispetic and makes the new hair blond and invisible when it begins to grow in again.

To discourage the growth of hairs, and to bleach and destroy the fuzz that comes thickly on the upper lip, make a mixture of fresh peroxide of hydrogen and household or toilet ammonia, half and half, and keep in a dark glass bottle. Rub this over the upper lip once or twice a week. If your skin is not sensitive, rubbing with a pumice stone is a great help but few people can stand this treatment without irritation.

I have told you nothing new—but there is nothing new to tell on this subject.

Anxious:—Your pimples do not come from taking the agar agar as its action is merely that of aiding nature to clear the digestive tract. Possibly you are taking too little and the pimples are due to your upset condition. A tablespoonful taken with the breakfast food is usually all that most people need.

L. A. B.:—The pilocarpine hair tonic frequently mentioned in the

Use This Bleack On Your Lips

Chat will help the condition which is causing your hair to lose its color. I will be glad to send you the formula for it on receipt of a self-addressed, stamped envelope for mailing.

Tomorrow—Answered Letters.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question—The Editor.

COURTESY MAKES SUBALTERNS RICH

LONDON, Dec. 8.—Four subterns, belonging to a British giment stationed in India, had en home on leave. Their money minished rapidly, and they were ly too glad to take the boat ck to India.

Aboard the ship they found an d man who was bemoaning the ct that he could not indulge his le hobby—bridge. The experts ould have nothing to do with the d man, because he was such a rrible bore. Thereupon the ung soldiers made him up a ble for bridge for the voyage.

They played all day and every y until the ship reached India. he old man expressed his deep ratitude to the soldiers and left em, with renewed and hearty anks. A few weeks later he ed.

Immediately afterward the ung men received a lawyer's tter stating that, as a token of s gratitude, the old man had ft them £20,000 a year—more an $100,000 — between them. nd it is amazing the extreme ourtesy that young officers are ow showing to strangers on the oyages to and from India.

In an attempt to check this smuggling, detachments of Free State troops have been drafted to Londonderry for service on the Donegal border, where the smuggling is most rife. Further drastic action is threatened, including the closing of certain roads by means of barbed-wire entanglements and a complete curfew on the borders after 5 p. m.

Calf's Head Favorite In France a la Tomato

PARIS, Dec. 8.—Calf's-head a la tomato is a favorite dish on the French table.

Corn Fritters Called Beignets a la France

PARIS, Dec. 8.—Fresh corn beignets in France are much like American corn fritters. Scrape off enough sweet corn to make a pint of thick pulp. Add two eggs, well beaten, and one-fourth cup of milk. U. S. MAY LOSE AS BIG COTTON KING

Development Of Africa By New Firm Expected To Increase Output

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—The United States, as the world's greatest cotton exporting country, is losing that distinction, according to the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural foundation, in Chicago.

Of the 2,708,000 bales of cotton imported by England from all ports last year 1,400,000 came from the United States, 729,000 from Egypt, 44,000 from Brazil and 535,000 from other countries, principally India and Peru. In the period from 1909 to 1914 England got three-fourths of her cotton from America. Last year's percentage shows but a little more than one-half coming from this country.

Representatives of English cotton manufacturers state that unless the United States can furnish more cotton at a cheaper price, more vigorous steps will be taken to supply their needs elsewhere.

India, according to the foundation, is the greatest cotton producing country next to the United States, with the possible exception of China, which grows no exportable surplus.

Africa to Figure

A newly organized cotton growing corporation is expected to cut in further on our share of the export trade. This corporation, which has contracted for the building of the Sudan Dam, has made arrangements for the construction of a railway in Northern Africa, and is expected to increase African cotton production at least 100,000 bales. Two hundred thousand bales are now grown in sections of Africa outside of Egypt, which normally produces 1,200,000 bales.

Three methods are advanced by the Agricultural foundation to prevent the possible dethronement of King Cotton: New and cheaper fertilizers to effect the necessary economies; a united attack to stamp out the boolweevil, or economy coming from improved machinery, and improved farming systems which will provide cotton labor production work the year around, instead of only six to eight months, are the three "life-savers" offered.

The best precaution against tularemnia is to wash the hands with strong soapsuds immediately it is discovered, according to doctors.

RESERVE FORCES GAINING NUMBER

Chief Of Infantry Reports Officers' Training Unit Now Is Popular

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The total number of infantry officers in the United States Army on June 30, 1924, was 3,568, of whom 3,258 participated in the World War, according to the annual report of Major-General Charles S. Farnsworth, chief of infantry, to the secretary of war.

A comparison of the strength of the officers in the reserve corps shows that there are now 23,245 ready to assume active service when called, an increase of 1,435 during the year. Also during the year 1,965 graduates of Citizens' Military Training camps were appointed second lieutenants in the reserve corps, or given certificates of eligibility.

General Farnsworth said, in his report, that he had noted a marked increase in the record of the various infantry units he had inspected during the year, particularly in marksmanship. From opinions he had gathered from the heads of camps and schools where military training was being given, he reported, he ascertained that there is a continuing and spreading interest in reserve officers' training camps among educators, as well as an increased interest among the students themselves.

Chinese Bandits Use Noted Buddhist Sacristry For Captives

SHANGHAI, China, Dec. 8.—The chance arrest of a small bandit gang near Fukow, in Honan Province, has revealed that the bandits were using a famed old Buddhist temple, on the road between Fukow and Yenling to hold captives prisoner while negotiating with their families for ransom.

Police raided the temple after the arrests and took a number of other members of the gang, including the chieftain, a wealthy citizen of Yenling, into custody and released a score of prisoners at the same time.

The wealthy Yenling Chinese had been contributing money for the repair of the temple during the last year and had his own workmen on the job, so that nothing unusual was supected. While making slow progress in the repairing, the kidnaper-workers also constructed cellars, where they held their prisoners until the required ransom was paid.

REV. COLE GIVES MEMORIAL TALK

Solemn Services Are Held By Glendale Lodge of Elks for Departed

Rev. Cole's Address

The inspiring and excellent address of Rev. Cole follows in full: "And the righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance." Psalm 112:6.

Since death and despair first struck cold the hearts of men Memorials have been kept.

It may be a great mausoleum, a pyramid, pantheon, a shaft of marble, a picture, a toy, a lock of hair, the print of a little foot.

Eugene Field, the poet laureate of child life, let stand undisturbed for a long time a little chair and on it some simple toys, in memory of a little lad he'd lost:

"The little toy dog is covered with dust,
But sturdy and staunch he stands;
The little tin soldier is red with rust,
And the musket moulds in his hands.
Time was when the little toy dog was new,
And the soldier was passing fair;
And that was the time when our little Boy Blue
Kissed them and put them there.

" 'Now don't you go till I come,' he said,
'And don't you make any noise.'
So toddling off to his trundle-bed
He dreamt of his pretty toys;
And as he was dreaming, an angel song
Awakened our little Boy Blue—
Oh! the years are many, the years are long,
But the little toy friends are true.

"Aye, faithful to little Boy Blue they stand,
Each in the same old place—
Awaiting the touch of a little hand,
The smile of a little face;
And they wonder as waiting the long years thru
In the dust of that little chair,
What has become of our little Boy Blue,
Since he kissed them and put them there."

Memory is the treasure house where monuments are kept and preserved.

You are not building monuments today nor are you worshipping at marble shrines, but you are bringing forth from memory's walls pictures of your brothers who have gone to that bourne from which no traveller returns. Yesterday they were with you, did their tasks, knew dawn and sunset, rejoiced in your successes, arose with you to honor the ritual of your order. Today, we repeat the names and no answer comes. Shame be upon us, if at the mention of their names we do not take renewed courage and swear new devotion to the good things for which they stood.

Memory plays many capricious pranks. It preserves many an idle word and incident, yet in the main its contribution to our present flows from those we most love to remember. Many of its pictures we have kept turned to the wall so long that with difficulty can we recall them. In the long procession of the years, there are but a few figures that still live and speak to us. Our conscious past is peopled with the friends who wrought for us and the people marked enough to hold our attention.

So it is with the nation's memory. Its history is the record of its heroes. Its thousands and its millions are soon forgotten. But those who wrought for the nation's welfare find their place in its gracious book of remembrance. It is true that a nation's memory is also capricious. There are many real benefactors who have served their country but whose names have never reached its page of honor. But it is also true that those whose names are blazoned there are remembered either for the good they have done or because their misdeeds have made their names a blot on the page of history, too black to be forgotten by the race that loves the people that they injured. We cannot forget the assassins and tyrants and traitors because of the lurid light they cast on all that they imperilled. A few names of dishonor survive as terrible examples of what the nation hates but the vast number of them go forgotten into oblivion.

It is certainly a beautiful trait of human nature that each generation loves to honor for itself the heroes of the past. New information about our civic, military, and literary leaders is being continually sought out and published. New monuments are being continually erected. Every years brings its revival of some distinguished name. Centennials, bi-centennials, or tri-centennials bring into prominence the names that might otherwise be no more than names to a new generation. And further, each year brings added glory. We love to idealize with unlimited virtue the characters of the country's benefactors. We hunt for new stories of Lincoln's kindness of heart, new evidence of Washington's statesmanship, we make a saint of Joan of Arc even if it takes four centuries, and we love the stories and the poems which immortalize the embattled farmers of Lexington and the old grey head of Fredericksburg and Sheridan riding 20 miles at breakneck speed to Winchester.

But memory suggests the twin word duty.

That duty is plain. If your children shall ask you, "What mean ye by this Memorial?" can you not say to them "We have been in a sacred place today. We have thought of the good deeds of men, we have bowed down in reverence and vowed that we would take increased devotion from these honored men, that we would be true to the right as God gives us to see the right, that we would scatter flowers for those whose garlands and wreaths are plucked from briers and thorn-trees, that we shall honor God our creator and redeemer into whose face we some day hope to look."

Other men have labored, we have entered into their labors. Our duty is to carry on, to make our lives worthy and to keep our hearts pure. Let us here highly resolve to make it so these dead shall not have lived in vain, that the nation under God shall prosper and achieve the great purpose for which God brought us to a day like this.

Peace be to the memories of our brothers! Green be the graves where sleep friends, patriots, sages! Calm be the resting place of all the brave and true! Gentle be the winter rains where last we saw their frail tabernacles lowered beneath the sod! Forgotten be their frailties and shortcomings in the toils of the road! Sacred be the trust committed to our care, and bright the visions of the coming ages. Glad be the day when we, too, shall come to the end of the way!

Allege Liquor Sold To Burbank Students

Oswald De Ruiz, 47, and C. H. Brunton, 26, were arraigned before Judge A. A. Crawford at Burbank today charged with selling poisonous liquor to Burbank high school boys. The arrest of the two men followed an investigation after two boys at high school had been temporarily blinded while at their classes. A search for the alleged bootleggers disclosed Ruiz and Burton in front of a tent carnival about to make a delivery of their illicit product, police asserted.

Following a grilling Burton, it is declared, led the officers to an orchard in Burbank and dug up a large supply of liquor which he and his partner had buried. The samples analyzed showed a high percentage of dangerous poison.

West Side Beats East Side In Calling Drive

The six weeks' calling campaign held by members of the First Baptist church, under the auspices of the women's union, closed last night. There was much excitement at the meeting, as the winning side was to be entertained by the losers. Mrs. H. Park Arnold, president of the union, announced the west side, under the supervision of Mrs. W. N. Stamps and Mrs. Alberta Marple, reported 5875 calls, winning the contest. The east side under the management of Mrs. P. L. Hatch and Mrs. G. N. Hobson reported 4582 calls, making a total of 10,457.

Glendale was divided into the east and west sides for the campaign, with Brand boulevard as the dividing line. Each side was divided into five districts, with a team captain. Members of the west side will be given a supper tomorrow night at 6:30 o'clock, at the Central Christian church, by the east side. Talks, readings and music will be heard. Reservations should be made by notifying the team captain before tonight. The calling campaign will be followed by a month of evangelistic effort.

Male Mannequin Makes Debut In London Shop

LONDON, Dec. 8.—The male mannequin has made his debut here. With women mannequins, he showed off the latest fashions in men's wear at a dress show here recently. Spectators said he performed his duties much more effectively than mannequins of the opposite sex do. He not only knew the name of the material of which his suit was made, but also all about its cut, fit and wearing qualities.

Contrary to the women's mannerisms, he had not acquired a special walk nor the deliberate mannequin stare, but paraded quite at his ease.

DYNAMITERS AND ORANGE IN SCORELESS TIE GAME

Local Heavyweights Outplay Challengers in Semi-Finals at Santa Ana But Unable to Put Ball Over for Touchdown

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.

The Southern California prep play-off was further complicated Saturday when the Glendale Dynamiters fought a 0 to 0 battle with the Orange Panthers at Santa Ana on a slippery, soggy field before a crowd of nearly 6000.

The Dynamiters' light fast team was at a great disadvantage on the field, which was slippery as ice. A wet ball and wet field several times gummed the works for the locals when victory seemed within grasp. The heavy Panthers neither slipped or fumbled but nevertheless were unable to make yards but once during the whole game.

The locals got off on the wrong foot by being penalized thirty yards on four different occasions, fifteen for offsides and fifteen for holding, in the first three minutes of play. After Ralph had recovered the Glendale fumble Elmer Muff returned an Orange punt fifteen yards to the Panthers' thirty-five-yard mark. Glendale made only seven yards in three plays and Bud Elliott tried his first place kick which was recovered by Ralph on the Orange forty-yard mark, the ball being blocked. The Panthers made their first yards just as the first quarter ended.

Place Kick Tried

After Orange punted to Glendale on the Red and Black twenty-yard mark Bud Elliott got loose for a thirty-yard sprint on a cut in end run. After making nine and half more paces in three plays the Panthers got the ball on downs when Zaun's pass floundered in the mud and Muff was forced to fall on the ball. Muff, however, made up for the loss by returning the punt thirty-five yards to the Orange thirty-five-yard line. Glendale made yards and Elliott tried his second place kick which was a scant three yards wide.

The Dynamiters threatened the Orange and White goal seriously at the start of the second half when they advanced the oval to the Panthers' nine-yard line. But after two bucks for two yards Muff slipped on the wet turf just when it looked like curtains for Orange, and Elliott was forced to try another unsuccessful place kick from the twenty-yard line. It was Bud's nearest chance but failed when the ball slipped as Muff took Zaun's pass.

The Orangemen punted only thirty yards to Glendale on the Orange thirty-five-yard line and a pass, Denney to Lavelle, gained fifteen yards. Muff made seven and Booker on two attempts left only one yard to go but the meaty Panthers piled up the Glendale line and Phillips ran into a stone wall.

Hindered By Mud

No sooner had Orange the ball than it punted to Glendale on the Orange thirty-five-yard line. Glendale made yards twice, taking the ball to the Orange twelve-yard line, but Muff slipped on the first play and was thrown for a ten-yard loss. The Dynamiters completed a twelve-yard pass, Elliott to Lavelle to Elliott, but on the fourth down Bud fell back for his fifth unsuccessful place kick.

During the fourth quarter the locals managed to pack the ball to the Orange twenty-yard mark, only to be forced to try place kicks, one by Lavelle, which was low and wide, and another by Elliott, which was ten yards short. The game ended with the ball in Orange's possession on its own nine-yard line.

Elliott attempted six place kicks and Lavelle one. The locals came the closest to a touchdown in the third quarter, when they were as near as the six-yard line.

Outplayed Panthers

The Dynamiters ran circles around their opponents. The locals scored eleven first downs to their opponets' one. During the entire second half the farthest the Orangemen could go on the offensive was their own twenty-yard line.

Bill Bradbury did some nice punting for the locals; in fact, the best that has been displayed this year. Elmer Muff and Bud Elliott both shone on long runs on the slippery field. Earl Denney did some nice line smashing, and was into nearly every play on the defensive. The lineup:

Wife Cheers As Halfback Played Game

SANTA ANA, Dec. 8.—Glendale players may wonder why Fenton Barr, Orange halfback, played such a stellar game Saturday in the no-score tie between the two opposing high school teams seeking the Southern California championship. Barr's wife, also a junior in high school, was on the sidelines, rooting as only a wife can root, it is said. The couple were married last summer, and both resumed studies this fall.

BASEBALL

Three runs in the second inning overcame a two-run lead Burbank piled up in the first frame and won yesterday's game for Lankershim. Jensen, hurling for Lankershim, fanned twelve men and got a double. Crankwright struck out seven.

Santa Ana Caseys won their opening game against Long Beach, 6 to 4. Kramer was the hitting star for the winners, getting a triple and a double. The Los Angeles Caseys defeated Manchester Heights, 8 to 5. Howe won for Pasadena Caseys, 6 to 5, over Alhambra, when he pounded out a homer with the bags loaded.

Inglewood moved into first place in the Double A division yesterday by defeating Hawthorne, 4 to 0. Haycox fanned thirteen men, and figured in ten assists. Hawthorne batters got only three hits off him.

SPORTDOM ALL OVER

By JOSEPH L. KELLEY
Of The Evening News Staff.

Joe Benjamin will find out he isn't as good as Hollywood has been trying hard to make him after he gets a few more slaps from boys like Spud Myers. And Joe is the sheik fighter who has been jawing so much about a fight with Leonard. What a joke! Spud Myers or Tommy Carter have some semblance of a right to talk about a fight with Benny but — Joe Benjamin. Joe, someone has been kidding you. As a curtain raiser you're fine.

After seeing Joe try to convince that he knows something about scrapping we can understand why Benny has ignored his alleged challenges. Benny licked better boys than Joe Benjamin ten years ago when he was a snot-nose kid around New York's eastside. Lay down Joe, you're too noisy.

As Ned Nye, humorist-author-comedian said of Hollywood's brand of gin when asked to have the last drink on the premises—"No! No!—it takes two drinks to keep the first one down."

Ned about summed up Joe Benjamin's claim to the right to mix it with Benny Leonard. It takes two scrappers of Joe's ability to clinch the first argument for a fight with Benny.

Hollywood spread a lot of words about that "all-star" card Friday night. May we ask who all these stars were and if so, why? Surely, Joe Benjamin isn't a star. Spud Myers comes ninety-nine and nine-tenths nearer being one than Joe and Spud we wouldn't class as a star. It all depends on how loosely one construes the word star.

Frankie Grandetta another alleged star is so by virtue of being connected with a well known movie star, not by virtue of his fighting. That let's Frankie out. Bill Hart, like Spud Myers approaches the star class. We refrain from even considering the rest of the card as stars.

If fight fans hereabouts want to see a real star—one fully entitled to add that prefix to his name—they want to journey over to Vernon tomorrow night and see little Pal Moore crossmits with Jimmy McLarnin. Pal is a real, honest-to-goodness luminary. Pal has more license to "star" than the entire card at Hollywood last Friday. The only real stars ever to appear in Hollywood stadium are motion picture stars.

Bootleggers held a get-to-geth-er conference other night to settle staple price for holiday goods. Press agent for B. L.'s immediately spread news that holiday goods were going to be scarce. That's old stuff. B. L.'s are stealing meat packers and coal operators' thunder when they start that noise.

Then immature minds wonder why state makes study of economics obligatory in schools. How would R. L.,s know that scarcity of commodity would tend to raise price if it weren't for their study of economics. Never can tell how some of these "senseless" studies are going to turn out.

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright. 1924

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Since everyone seems to be getting excited over the coming Mickey Walker-Mike McTigue bout the writer is entitled to a few more serious words than he has yet uttered concerning this proposed go.

It is hard to see where the smaller Mickey will gain much more than his share of the purse in meeting Michael, who will have weight, height and reach in his favor, together with a disconcerting way of socking a stiff left hand jab in the face of a rushing opponent.

Walker will be eternally trying to get close to McTigue with his bull-like rushes and will find before him an awkward customer to deal with.

The meeting of two titleholders has furnished hectic engagements in the past, but here is one that threatens to take the cake for utter boredom. The prospects are for a bout which will show less action than a six-round preliminary between two amateurs.

The talk of chances for a knockout is laughable. Those who talk this way should remember that the battle will be held under the Marquis of Queensberry rules with eight ounce gloves—not with tomahawks.

Last year the prize-ring turnover in New York state was $5,000,000.

TROJANS DISPLAY WONDER FOOTBALL

Locals Show Great Game Against Syracuse and Please Big Crowd

Aside from the score of 16 to 0, the following facts and figures show how the University of Southern California defeated Syracuse in the East vs. West football clash in the Coliseum last Saturday:

Although Syracuse made ten first downs to six for the Trojans, the home eleven outclassed their eastern rivals in practically every other department of the game.

Elmer Henderson's charges gained a grand total of 250 yards from scrimmage, 152 of these coming from rushing the ball, while the remaining ninety-eight were realized via the forward-pass route. The Orange eleven totaled 156 yards from scrimmage, fifty-one being acquired by the use of the serial attack.

Trojans Pass Best

In the standpoint of passes, which were the outstanding feature of the game, the Trojans again finished in front of the visitors. U. S. C. tried nine passes and completed five of 'em. Three first downs were realized via this source, these being made on gains of 26, 31 and 35 yards, respectively.

Syracuse attempted seventeen passes and were successful in eight of them. With the exception of two, gaining thirteen and fourteen yards, respectively, none of the other shots netted more than eight yards.

"Honey" Earle, bulky U. S. C. fullback, was the outstanding ground gainer of the day, ripping off a total of fifty-five yards in six plays. This gave him an average of nine yards per play, which is knocking off yardage in pretty large chunks, if anybody should walk up and ask you.

McBride Is Star

Johnny McBride, much-heralded Syracuse fullback, found the Trojan line pretty tough, but at that put on a neat line-bucking exhibition. He packed the ball more than any man in the game, being used on eighteen plays for a net gain of forty-seven yards. He had the advantage on some of the others in that he played the whole contest.

Morton Kaer, Trojan flyer, finished a good third and but for a couple of set-backs, in which he lost something like seventeen yards, would have been right out in front. He carried the leather fourteen times and realized forty-two yards.

Johnny Riddle did some nifty line plunging, garnering twenty yards on seven tries. Foley, who was used pretty frequently by the Orange team, gained twenty-seven yards in nine plays. Capt. Simmons, who was perhaps the best defensive player in the game, netted twenty-one yards in twelve attempts at packing the ball.

Kaer's Great Run

U. S. C.'s place kick average was better than that of Syracuse. The Trojans got one out of three. Capt. Johnny Hawkins booted the successful shot while he and Norm Anderson also missed one each. McBride was unable to connect with either of his tries, one of them being blocked and the other going wide.

In addition to the 250 yards gained by the Trojans on plays from scrimmage, Kaer reeled off something like forty-five yards in running back one of McBride's attempted place-kicks in the second half, while Hobbs Adams was responsible for the addition of thirty-five yards after blocking Bailey's punt in the first quarter.

The Trojans had such a good day that they even went out and finished ahead of the visitors in the matter of penalties. U. S. C. was set back a total of fifty yards, while Syracuse lost but five yards via edicts from the officials.

If you want a rule interpreted—

QUESTION—Is there anything in the rules to prevent punting the ball at the kick-off?

ANSWER—There is Rule VI, Section specifically states that a place-kick can be made only while the ball is resting on the ground. And the rule book says a kick-off must be a place kick.

QUESTION—Team A takes the ball on her eight-yard line. In putting it into play a member of the team is caught holding. This calls for a fifteen-yard penalty. But the team was on its eight-yard line when the foul was committed. The full penalty would thus take the ball over the offending team's goal line. What is done about this?

ANSWER—The ball goes to the one-yard line.

QUESTION — Who took Jock Sutherland's place as coach at Lehigh?

ANSWER—Jack Baldwin, Trinity college.

QUESTION—In kicking off would there be any objection to making a small hole in the ground and setting the ball in it?

ANSWER—The rules committee has just ruled that this may be done if the hole is made with no loss of time as with the heel.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondence of the Glendale Evening News. Copyright. 1924

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—The old Landis-National league-Ban Johnson scrap is on again through a newer channel. It is the opinion of baseball that it will come to a head here this week when the major leagues meet and when the joint session of the majors takes place.

The renewal of the feud is all based on the introduction of a resolution into the minor league session at Hartford calling upon Johnson to affirm the charges that he had made regarding gambling on the Pacific coast this last season. Almost the final action of the meeting was to ask Johnson to substantiate his charges to some responsible party, meaning, of course, Judge Landis.

It is conceded that gamblers were present on the coast, who had been alleged to have had crooked dealings in the past, but President Williams, of the Pacific coast league affirmed that there was not any gambling among the players of his organization although he agreed that there might have been some gambling in the cities of the circuit.

In conformity with the action at Hartford, one of the most influential of the counsellors in minor league baseball is convinced that the request for information from Johnson —"direct evidence" as it is termed—is the preliminary to another verbal onslaught upon the president of the American league such as that which preceded the joint session at Chicago in 1923 when Commissioner Landis vehemently denounced Johnson and everybody else who disagreed with him and offered to tear up his contract with baseball right then.

It is also feared that a decision may take place with the minors which will hurt. There are some minor leaguers who were bolder in Hartford than they were in Chicago, who expressed the wish that Landis had resigned. There always has been opposition to Landis in the minors, some of whom he has punished unmercifully, according to their side of it, but it never has reached the acute stage that exists at present. It is declared that Landis' salary is too high and that he is a friend of the major leaguers and a particular friend of the National league. Yet the minor leagues, as an association, endorsed all he had done, lest the rod fall.

Ban Johnson did not attend the world series in 1924 and had some comment to make in regard to the propriety of going on with it after the O'Connell-Dolan episode. At the time his remarks angered the National league very perceptibly and there were some in his own organization who thought he had gone too far. His league has forgotten the matter and seems to care little about it, now that the series is over and the Washington club won the championship but there are some in the rival league who want the subject brought up again and who are said by the minors to have urged Landis to bring it up and to open the whole subject with a barrage again—at Johnson much as that which scattered gas bombs and tear bombs all over Chicago last winter.

La Belle, hurling for the local aggregation, held the visitors to six hits, while Manager Manush's crew gathered three homers, four triples, three doubles and seven singles off Ryan and McDermott.

Cozington got two circuit drives, and Myers slammed the pill out of the park for four bases. A triple play in which Cryan and M. Doll participated, thrilled the spectators. The game was played at the ball park on San Fernando road, the former home of the Glendale White Sox. The score:

SANTA MARIA IS OUT OF PLAYOFF

Compton Eliminates Saints 24-14 Saturday; Will Play In Finals

Santa Maria, the "terror of the north," failed to live up to advance notices Saturday when Compton, winner in the Bay league, walloped them 24 to 14 at Compton in the semi-finals. The victory gives Compton the right to meet the winner of the Glendale-Orange game in the finals.

Rozelle, fullback for the Bay leaguers, was the outstanding star of the game. He hurled some long passes to De Hoag, left end, one of which counted for a touchdown. His punting was good, averaging better than 35 yards. Rozelle intercepted a Santa Maria pass in the final minute of play and raced 40 yards to a touchdown.

Bakersfield Wins

The central section title went to Kern High school of Bakersfield by virtue of the Drillers' win Saturday over Lemoore High school, title holders in the Fresno County division of the San Joaquin Valley section of the C. I. F. Lemoore was trampled on 52 to 0 by the Drillers on a rain-soaked field. The victory gives the Drillers the right to compete with the winners of the Southern California title.

In the northern part of the state, the battle lies between Lodi and Berkeley, the deciding game to be played next Saturday afternoon at Lodi. Oroville was eliminated from the contest last Saturday by Lodi, 20 to 6, in the semi-finals. The winner of the Northern California title will play the winner of the Southern California-San Joaquin Valley final for the state championship.

PLAYERS APPEAR IN BENEFIT BILL

American Legion to Receive Share of Proceeds for Two Performances

The Dobinson Players, at the Club playhouse, are arranging to give "Only 38" beginning Wednesday matinee, December 10. The greatest thing in the world, mother love, is the big thought behind "Only 38." With the laughable situations and the human element, it makes one of the most delightful plays of many seasons.

The story of the play revolves about a little widow who is "only 38," and who still retains the outward appearance of youth and all of the inward longings of youth. Married at 17, she has uncomplainingly lived the colorless unemotional life of a small town minister's wife. After her husband's death and a respectful period of mourning, she sees no reason why she shouldn't give youth a chance. Then she finds that her two children have ideas of their own as to what the responsibilities and actions of a mother should be. This brings about the necessity of choosing between the love of her children and the happiness she has always wanted. The novel manner in which this is worked out furnishes the balance of the play.

Plan Legion Benefit

On Wednesday and Thursday nights, December 10 and 11, the American Legion will hold its annual benefit, which at this time will be in the sale of tickets for "Only 38" with the Dobinson Players. They will receive 50 per cent gross of the tickets they dispose of, and the proceeds are to go for the Christmas cheer and various other necessities for the veterans and old soldiers at Sawtelle, and it behooves the public to support this worthy organization by the purchase of tickets through the Legion.

Saturday night James E. Everington appeared before the audience at the playhouse and pleaded for the co-operation of the public.

Tickets purchased through the Legion may be exchanged at the box office of the Playhouse for reserved seats, and the regular sale of ticketse will be held at the box office as usual.

Market Reaction Seen In Trade Rush to Sell

American Express gained nine points at 143; Westinghouse Air Brake moved up to a new high at 110 on reports that the directors would distribute some of the rich plums held in the treasury of the company; Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing made a new high at 70 in further reflection of the favorable earnings of the company; dividend rails also maintained their price levels with a few exceptions.

Shell Oil Leads

Shell Union was a leader in the low-priced oil stocks; Maxwell B in the motors; Universal Pipe in the steel and iron commodities; Pittsburgh Utilities preferred in the public utility group and Pullman in the equipments.

Short covering and new investment buying turned the tide of the market in the last hour and prices were again inclined upward, under the leadership of the motors and the high-priced industrial shares.

Nash motors jumped 16 points to a new high at 190; Maxwell B stock was up four points to a new high at 36; Maxwell A up 3½ to 78¼; Mack Trucks up 2½ to 113; Jordan up 2 points to 47; Chandler, Hudson and Studebaker fractionally higher.

American Express completed an advance of 11 points to 145; Adams Express was up nearly five points at 92¾; Cast Iron Pipe up 3 at 114½. Rails and industrials participated to a lesser degree in the closing rally and prices in the last hour were generally the highest of the day.

Stock sales today totalled 1,577,800 shares; bonds $16,348,000.

Syrian Ruler to Pay America First Visit

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—The first governor of Lebanon, Syria, His Excellency Gabriel Bey Nahas, is coming to America.

Unlike many foreigners, he is not coming on behalf of a political organization or to get any money for starving Near Easterners. He is coming to visit America, which has done so much for Syria in building schools and colleges and educating the natives without any return for such work. He is grateful for all that has been done by America for Syria.

He also comes to see his fiancee, Miss K. Tadross, the daughter of the wealthy merchant, N. Tadross, of No. 139 77th street, Brooklyn, N. Y., who has been domiciled in New York during many years. He met her while she accompanied her parents in their visit to their native town two years ago and fell in love with her there.

Best Health Tonic Is Work Women Are Told

CHICAGO, Dec. 8. — Work and keep fit is the best health tonic for American womanhood, said Sarah C. O'Connell, high medical examiner for the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, a fraternal society numbering more than 70,000 women as members. The woman who works with hands and brain is generally more alert, more organically sound and has brighter prospects for a happy old age than her sister who lives a life of leisure, she said.

Score of Sailors Are Hurt In Harbor Blast

where they will be treated at the navy hospital.

Seven sailors, reported missing after the blast, were rescued by boats from the U. S. S. Pennsylvania. They had escaped uninjured from the explosion and were picked up after they swam from the burning boat.

George Sands, the water taxi operator, and Milton Sprague, his assistant, were both badly burned and injured by flying pieces of steel from the engine room.

Loaded With Sailors

The water taxi, known as the "Lamoyne," was loaded with forty-five sailors from the United States battleships Oklahoma, Tennessee, Arizona, Pennsylvania and Nevada, conveying them to their ships after week-end shore leaves. The boat's engine, according to reports brought to shore, caught fire, exploded and sank after a terrific blast.

Boats from the battleships rescued the injured sailors as they struggled in the debris of the water taxi.

The dead man and the injured were removed to the Tennessee and Pennsylvania in "man-o-war" row in the harbor.

Countess Hated White And Lived Black Life

VIENNA, Dec. 8.—The story of a countess who hated everything white, and who spent years of her life and a fortune trying to make everything black, was told in the Viennese courts recently when relatives of the late Countess Anna Fery, who had been left out of her will, brought suit against a Hungarian count to whom she had left everything.

Relatives stated that every year she spent more and more trying to make everything black. In her home at Graz Castle she always wore black and kept all the windows perpetually shuttered. She slept by day and never went out until nightfall, taking care to return before the dawn. They further stated that she spent vast sums on purchasing black swans and sombre-colored flowers. She hated all things white to such an extent that she even ordered that when snow fell in her domain it should be covered with cinders and coaldust.

Cow Breaks Radiator When Snitching Ride

WATKINS, N. Y., Dec. 8.—She was a simple country lass, but then—she had no right on his radiator. Such is the contention of C. N. Cole, of this village, who has no immediate desire for the friendship of a healthy cow. While driving near the David Love farm one brown-eyed, sleek-haired bossy, bored by the dire monotony of rural rife, leaped on the radiator of his automobile. "Come, let us fly or flee," she "mooed." But Cole "mooed" right back and bovine, thinking better of her hasty proposition, slid over the other side of the machine. Her gentle step broke one windshield and two fenders.

Court Fees More Than Bankruptcy Liabilities

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 8.—A. Y. Ellis, of Cape Charles, paid more to file a voluntary petition in bankruptcy than the total of his assets and liabilities. His assets were placed at $10 and his liabilities at $80. His attorney's fee was $50 and court costs $40. Court attaches said there is no record of a bankruptcy case involving such small amounts.

Expenditures for public education in the whole country in 1913 amounted to $521,546,000.
